low Fever at San Salvador

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Washington, May 19.-The United States consul at San Salvador informs the department, under date of April 11, the department, under date of April II, that vellow faver is epidemic in San Salvador; that eighteen cases are in the pest house, and twenty known cases are being treated outside. The mortality is very considerable, and many persons are leaving the city on account of the disease, which began its deadly work at a much earlier period than usual. The epidemic, however, is not general, and is at present confined to San Salvador. No foreigner has so far been attacked, the disease apparently being confined to natives of Ccutral America.

"Would the recent victories of the British in South Africa have any effect on the terms you would be willing to accept?" he was asked.

"Possibly," he replied, "yet that is a matter that I cannot discuss now."

When asked if he expected to see any of the representatives of Great Britain in Washington, he said:

"We may possibly. We shall not go after them, but we should be glad to talk to any fair-minded Englishman, for if the English people had known the truth in the South African situation this war never would have been begun."

LIBERTY OR DEATH.

"Will the Transvaal entertain any peace proposals that recognize the suzerainty of England?" he was asked.
"If England wants suzerainty over the republies," he replied, "she will have to come and take it." His two tall swarthy companions nodded assent.
Colonel O'Beirne, who some months ago vainly sought recognition as a diplomatic representative of the Boer Republic, yesterday appeared at the State Department in the interest of the three delegates.

Colonel O'Beirne has previously had a short talk with the President, who directed him to the State Department. Secretary Hay listened to the reasons why the United States Government should act to bring the war to a close. Colonel O'Beirne, like the Boer delegates, felt that the mere direction of the United States would suffee to induce England to cease hostilities. He argued with a good deal of eloquence, but without convincing the officials that the United States Government could intervene in the manner proposed without becoming at once involved as a party to the war. It can be set down as certain that the present determination of our government is not to request England to stop the war.

The credentials of the Boer delegates now in Washington will be submitted to the Secretary of State Monday next. Colonel O'Beirne called at the State Department this afternoon and arranged with Secretary Hay that the Boer credentials should be submitted in advance of the presentation of the gentlemen themselves.

This is in accordance with the usual rule governing the presentation of foreign ministers. So Mr. Bruyn the pri-

This is in accordance with the usual rule governing the presentation of foreign ministers. So Mr. Bruyn, the private secretary of the Boer delegation, is expected to bring the credentials to the State Department Monday, where they will be submitted for the careful examination of the department, which does not at present know anything of their character.

WANTED-CONTEST FOR MODERATOR.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.) reises opened the third day's session the Presbyterian Church. A few overthe Presbyierian Church. A few overtures were received when the business of the day was begun. Some of these related to the hymn book question, protesting, for the most part, against it the hasty adoption of a new book. An overture was offered asking the assembly to inaugurate a twentieth century movement, the plan being to raise at least $1,000,000 for the permanent work of the church.

An invitation was extended the assembly from Broadway Church, Fort Worth, Tex., to have the sessions of the assembly in that city in 1801. This question was referred and will be considered as the first business at the opening session next Wednesday.

W. A. Alexander, trensurer of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States, made his report to the Southern Assembly for 1800. The report showed receipts from May $, 1839, to May 11, 1900, amounting to $3,503 and disbursements for the same period of $2,233, leaving a balance of $1,255 in the treasurer's hands.

The report of the ad interim committee on the invalid fund was read by Prof. Francis R. Beattie, D. D., chairman of the committee. Methods in use in other general assembles of the Presbyterian Church regarding the care of the invalid workers in the church and the work which has been accomplished by the Southern Assembly were Presbyterlan Church regarding the care of the invalid workers in the church and the work which has been accomplished by the Southern Assembly were contained in the report.

At 12 o'clock the business session closed and a devotional service was conducted, when the assembly took an adjournment.

The reports submitted to-day were lengthy. No discussion took place upon them, as each will be taken up for final disposition after the committee, to which the reports have been referred, return a recommendation upon them.

The players from both lodges, whose names were given in last Sunday's issue of the Virginian-Pilot, will be attired in special sulfa for the eccasion. It is safe to say that any one who desires a hearty laugh and a few hours' pleasure will not go amiss if they virit the park on that occasion. Greenleaf Johnson's old mill on Sandy Point caught fire yesterday morning about 11 o'clock and was in a fair way to be quickly transformed into ashes, when one of the employees discovered the blaze and turned a stream on through the mill's hose. The blaze was soon extinguished, and the damages were comparatively small. The mill caught from the fire-room.
